We, the Comet Staff of 1957, have worked hard for your enjoyment. We hope that you will have fun, recalling all the memories of our "Safari" of 1957. If some of the titles baffle you, turn to the translation page in the back of the book. Here, all of the titles are translated into common English. Now, turn the pages, recall the memories, and go on through life's one long safari.

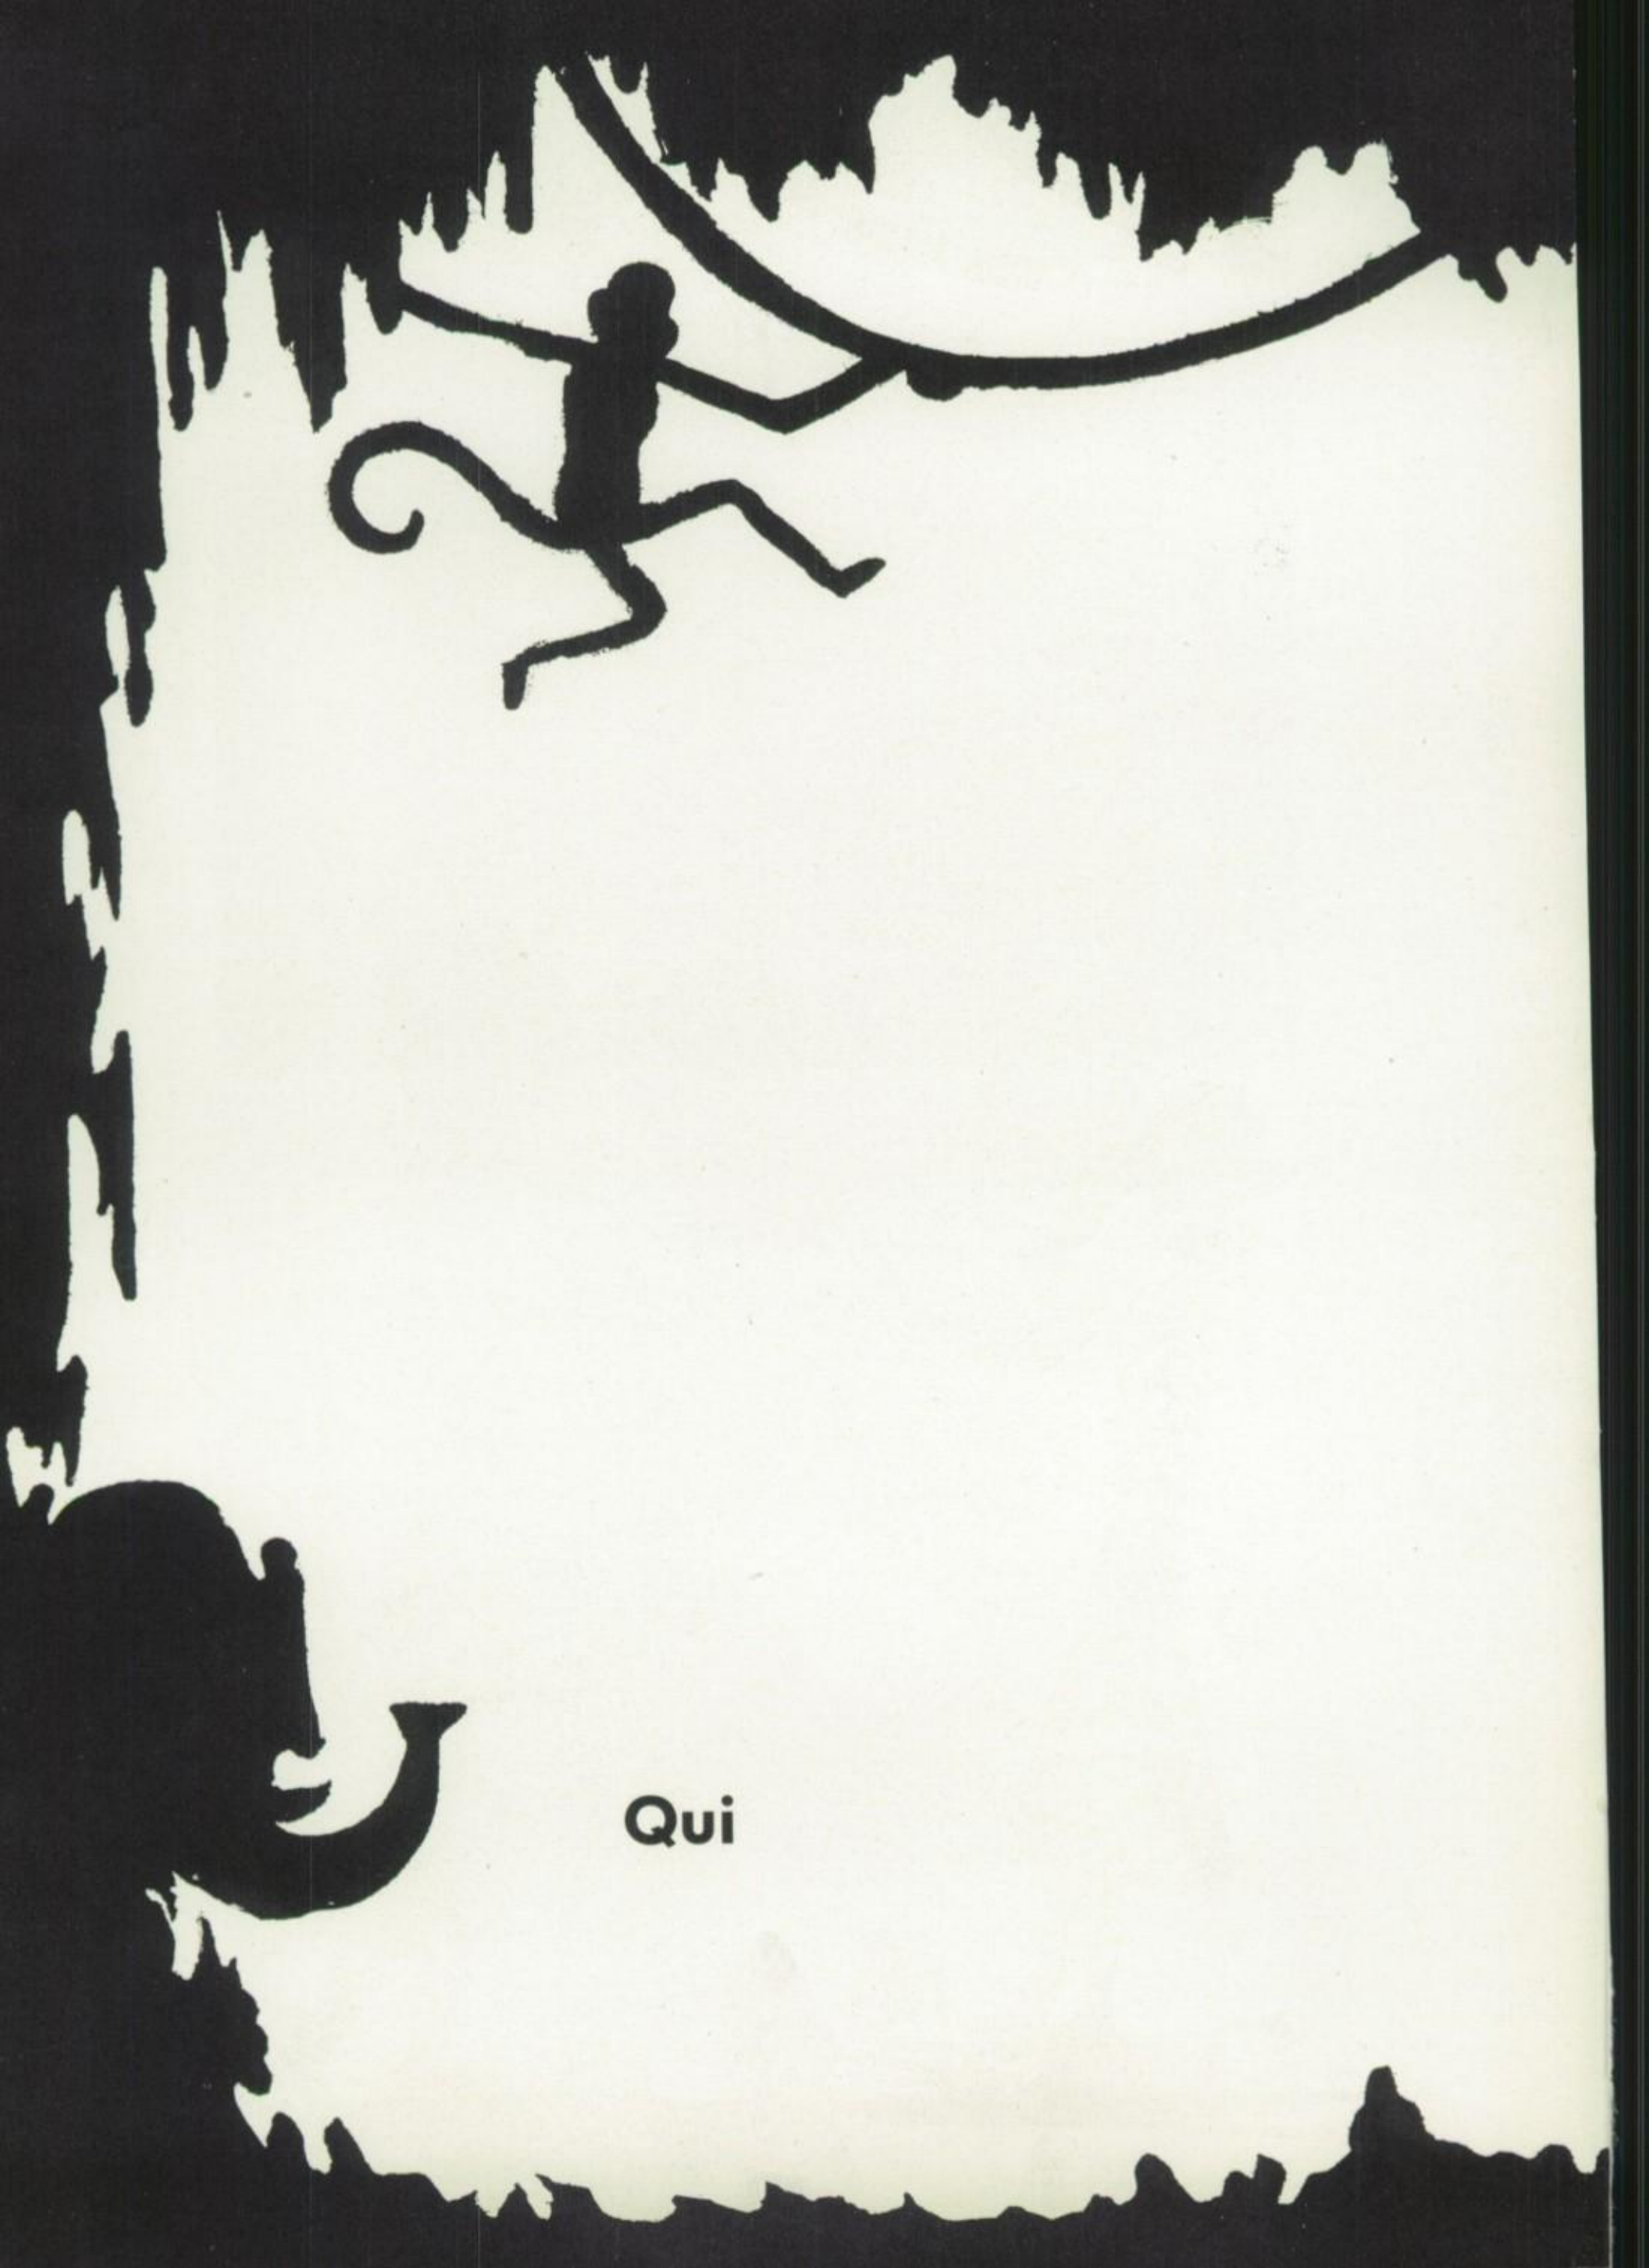

Allah

Mr. Boone, this safari could not have been a success without your help. You coached our football team to a league victory and did a very good job coaching the B Basketball team.

Besides coaching, you helped the freshmen make a good start in high school, and taught social living.

This was your first year here, and you won the love of everybody. You graduated from the University of Tulsa, where you received an A.B. degree.

The Comet Staff and the entire Student Body offer their thanks.

Clayton A. Castle, our hard working superintendent, accompanied us on our safari. He helped make our journey a huge success by solving minor problems and "huge" catastrophes—No matter how small or how large your problem was, he always helped as much as was possible.

We wish to thank him for the many services he has rendered throughout the past year. Besides helping us at the high school, he helped out with the Junior High School and the grammar schools.

Accompanying him along the journey were his two secretaries, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Bequette. They kept a complete log of all the district school events.

The school nurse was the chief medical aid to us during our safari.

The overseers of our trip were the school board. They prepared the journey for us.

All of these people have helped to make our trip a successfull one.

The district secretaries for this year were: Mrs. Green, and Mrs. Bequette.

Mr. Castle looked over the school papers.

The office staff was well equipped this year with Muriel, Miss Graves, Pauline, and Judie.

Amana

The man at the head of our caravan was Mr. Kingsley, the high school principal. He helped us in such things as preparing for scholarship test. He also accompanied us on educational side trips. When disputes arose, he was always there to settle them in the best way.

Assisting him were Miss Graves and the office girls. Miss Graves was in charge of all legal matter which came through the office. The daily bulletin was put out by the office girls. They were the chief aids to Miss Graves.

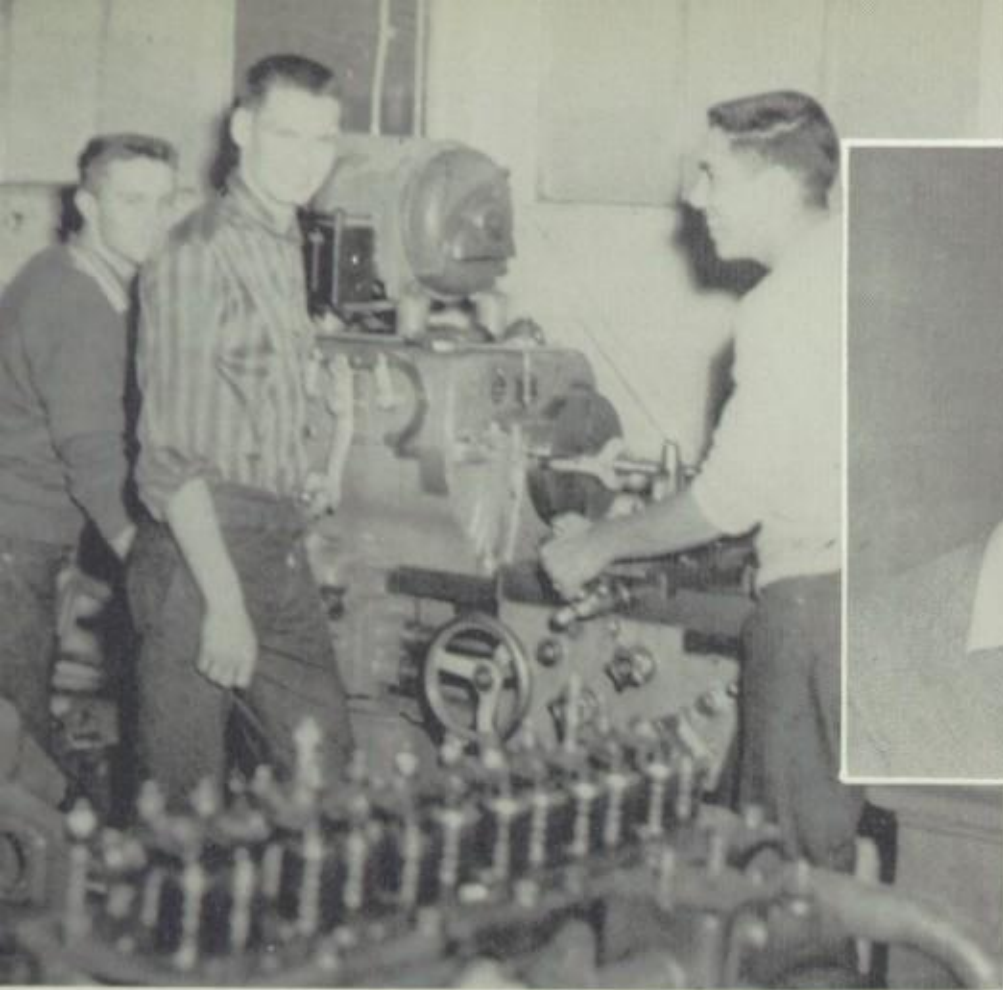

Mr. Kingsley and the people working under him have helped us continue and complete this Safari of 1957.

Mr. Kingsley had a talk with two sophomores, Meridith, and Phillip.

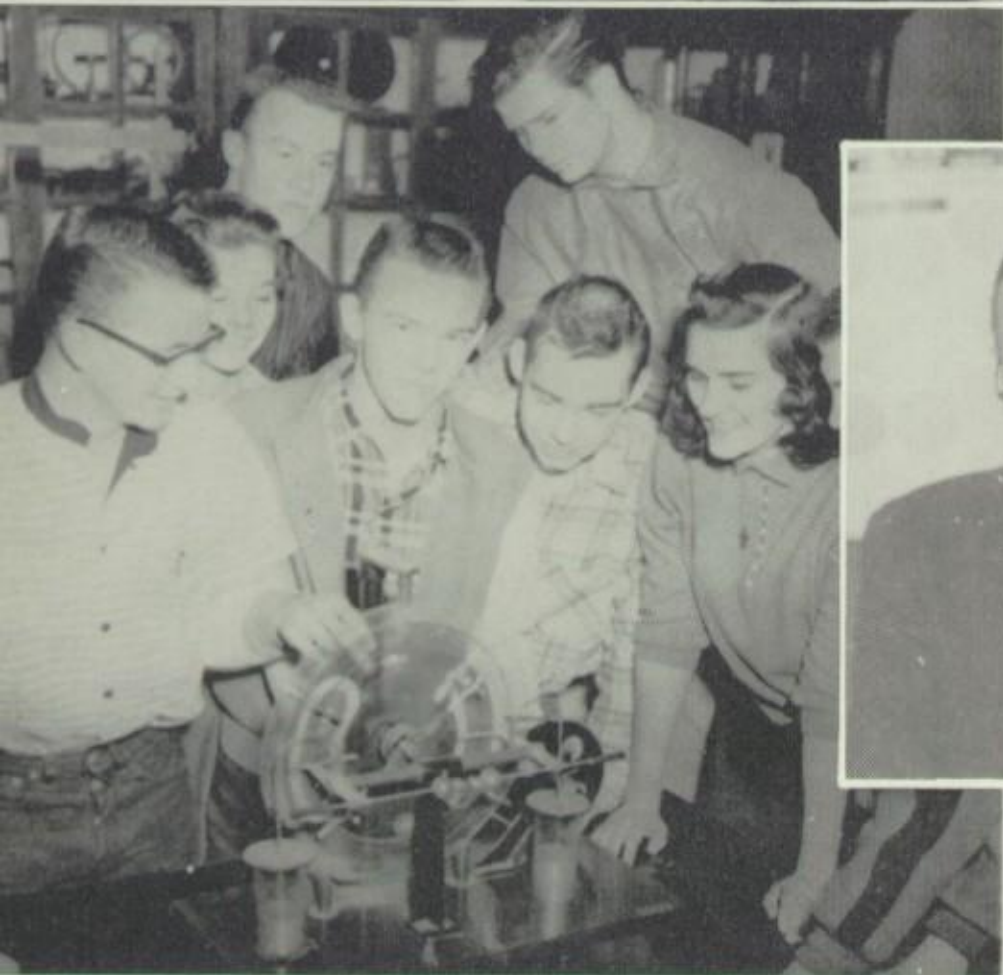

Other Assistants to Miss Graves were Lynnette, Marcia, Sandie, Jeannie, and Barbara.

Jakpo Jimbo

This year's Junior Class started on their safari under the capable hands of guide, P. F. Gossman. The students blazed through the financial jungle with various cake sales, car washes, and etc. These were brought up and considered by the members of the class council—President, Dwight Fitzgerald; Vice-President, Tootie Morillo; Secretary, Lynette Crump; and Treasurer, Sharon Butterbaugh. Representing the girls on the safari was Joanne Newman, and for boys, Gene House. Doing the Red Cross work this year were Doris Barker and Jerry McIntosh.

The job of the Junior Class is to provide for the Senior Banquet and Prom at the end of the school year. So, the Junior Class Play was held on November 30, 1956, and it boosted the financial resources quite a bit, but still more money was needed. Therefore, a halt was called, and the tired travelers invited the neighboring tribesmen in for several profit-making dances, which also helped the situation immensely.

During the journey, a few aborigines amidst this group of "bwanas" did a lovely job of attempting to re-finish the famous Senior Bench with red paint. So, after a long and tedious battle, the Juniors forfeited a part of the treasury for the repainting of said bench.

All in all, we experienced a profitable and memorable safari of which the preceeding were only highlights.

As in any other Safari there must be people who take part in the expedition and so were the Sophomores.

On our caravan these people proved their worth. Thus the Sophomores sponsored and promoted the annual Sophomore Amateur Hour, put on a dance, and had a cake sale.

The class elected their officers to lead them. The president was Larry Pickering; vice-president, Tom Taylor; secretary, Diane Boyd; and social chairman, Carolyn Meling.

Since the Sophomore class had an abundance of brains, it lead the other classes on the Scholarship Society with members.

Also learning the laws of parliamentary procedure and taking a hand in running the school was a task well done by the Sophomores.

They have fallen in love, gone to sleep in English, rushed for the cafeteria, talked in study hall, got acute stomach aches, been attacked by spring fever, and many other things just as normal Sophomores would do.

All these things the Sophomores have accomplished and have grown academically, athletically, and in the qualities of leadership in order that they might return in future years as leaders of our Safari.

As our safari proceeds into the jungles of darkest Africa, we see many interesting sights; there are lions crouching in the darkness; snakes slithering along the ground; monkeys and birds chittering noisily in the trees overhead, and natives hiding behind trees and bushes.

Far up ahead we see a group of curious investigators. As we draw nearer, we notice that they are the freshmen. They are led by their class officers. They are, Richard Cabello, president; Joan Anderson, vice-president; Susan Webb, secretary-treasurer; and Linda Stephens, social chairman.

It seems that these intelligent students have just come back from winning a decisive victory; whitewashing the Lindsay "L." Each year the freshman class has the supreme honor of tackling this strenuous job, and this year was no different.

Dressed in native costumes, blue jeans and sloppy shirts, they set off early this morning to complete their assignment. Everyone was willing and eager to do their part.

Although we would like very much to accompany these vigorous students on their tour, it will soon be dark, and we still have a long way to go before we reach our destination.

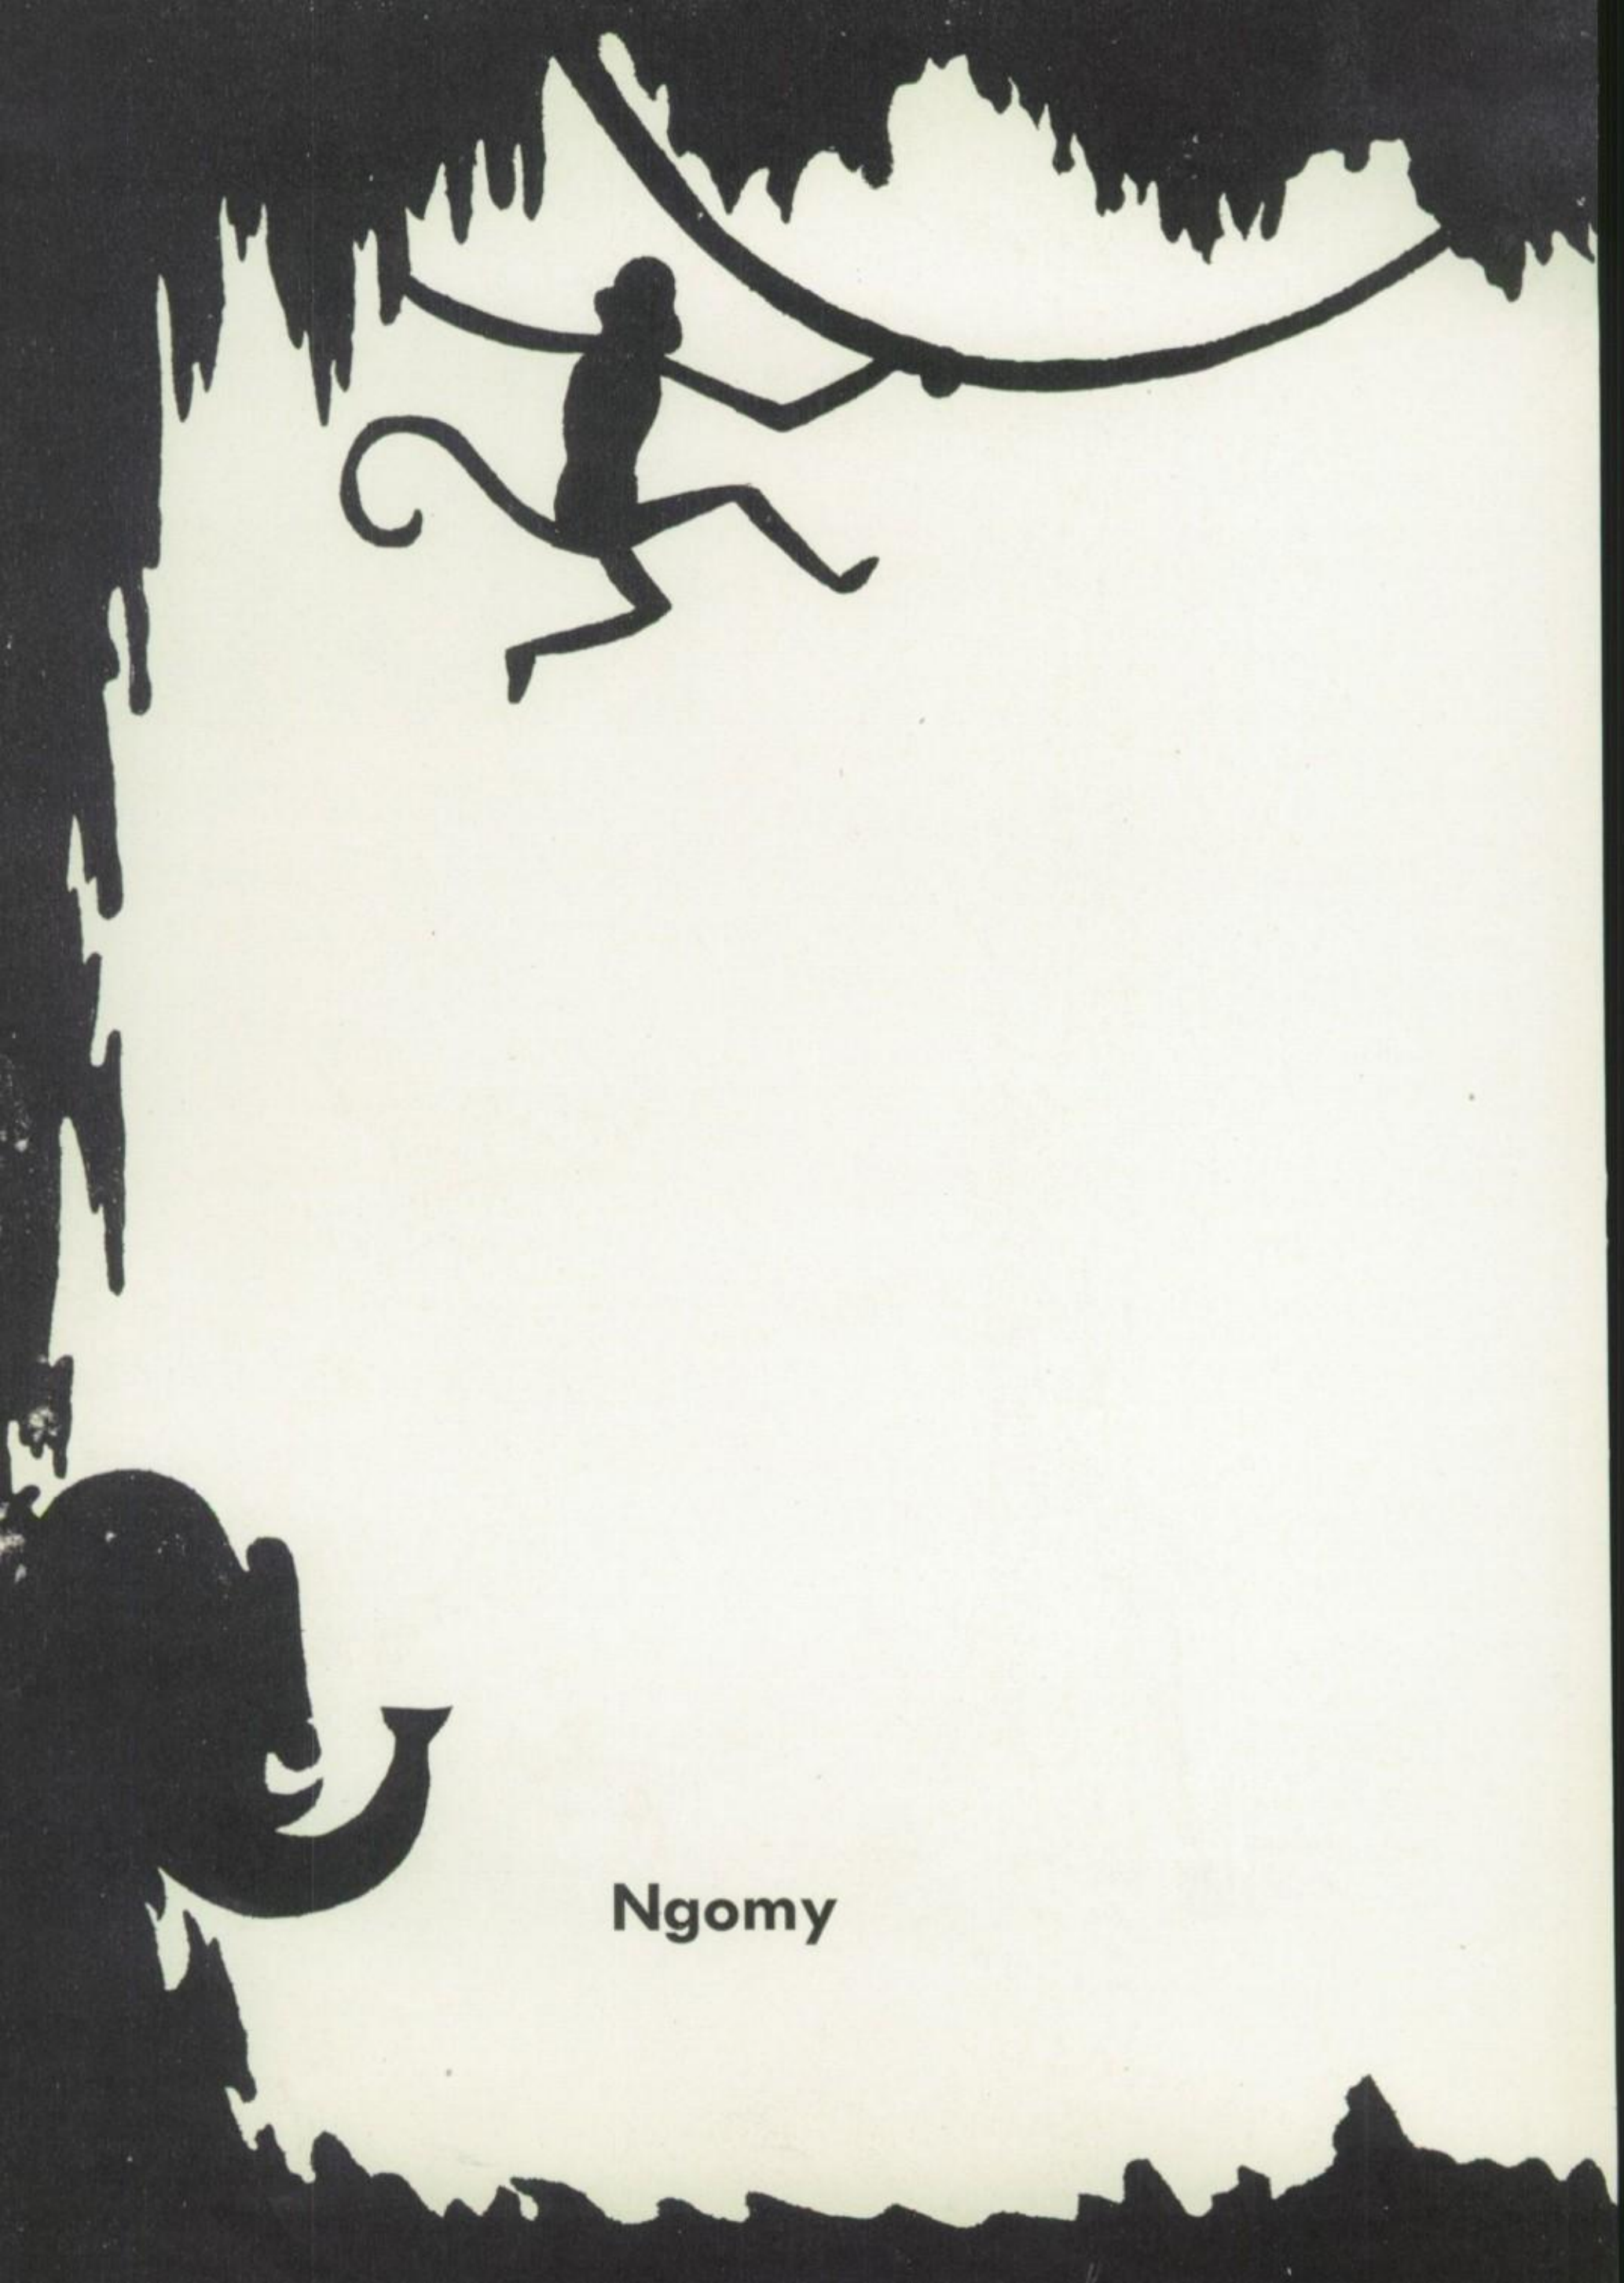

As our little party disappears into the dense jungle, we bid them a fond farewell, and promise to return again next year when they are sophomores.

The Freshmen Advisors this year were: Mrs. Davidson, Mr. Boone, Head Advisor, and Mr. Crooks.

For entertainment on our safari we paused in our day's work, now and then, for a National Assembly. These assemblies were very interesting and some were educational. We had a blind assembly, Jr. Jones and his assembly on sound, and Mr. French presented a very amusing clown show. We also had an exchange assembly with Strathmore. All of the students from Strathmore came to our school. Every other act in the show was from Lindsay, and then from Strathmore. This proved a great success. All of these shows and many more helped to make our school year more pleasant.

Rosalie Hill Took first place with a real cute pantomime. Second place went to Don Longacre and Carol Landers.

Susan Webb, as Al Jolson, won 3rd place. The quartet, with a new singing type placed 4th.

After a long hard journey, there is nothing like settling down and listening to the talent of those in the Caravan.

With Jay Webb as M.C. and being produced by the Sophomore tribe, the audience was held spellbound.

Some of the many fine acts were: Rosalie Hill winning first place with her pantomime, "Mama Teach Me to Dance," and 2nd and 3rd places were Don Longacre and Carol Landers, with "Five Foot Two," and Susan Webb with "Al Jolson." Fourth place, bringing something new, was Carol Edwards, Wilma Freeman, Dave Woolsey and Louis Borbon, accompanied by Lynda Burr with "I Almost Lost My Mind."

These acts and many more made the Safari truly one to remember.

All the contestants in the show did a real fine job.

Banner Girls: M. Hamby, S. Pitts, and D. Peters.

Majorettes: N. Hale, S. Newman, W. Roberts, Z. Thomas, F. Hendrix.

Pep Girls: S. Pieschke, S. Timm, M. Hutchins, M. Perkins, and P. Brenner.

Yell Leaders this year were: C. Kimbrough, E. Bowers, Head Yell Leader, and C. Edwards.

The villian, Louis Borbon, frightened Lady Isabel, Claire Lamb, while Barbara, Lynda Burr, and the hero Archibald, George Webb, looked on.

The stage crew worked hard to complete the settings. Some of the member were Jerry, Bill, Larry, Terry, and Jackie.

It was the night watch for the Junior Class. Everything was still while the Junior Class presented "East Lynne"—the daddy of all the old-fashioned mellow dramas. East Lynne was under the direction of Mrs. Davidson. The play was complete with villian and heroine. The audience screamed when they heard the villian and clapped for hero. "Gadzooks! Now for the dirty word." This roughish part was played by Louis Borbon. We mustn't forget the manly hero, Archibald Carlyle, who was portrayed by George Webb.

The play deals with the plight of Lady Isabel Vane (Claire Lamb), who is left orphaned when in her late teens. Her father dies and leaves the motherless Isabel penniless. Unfortunately, her father had sold their home, East Lynne, to Archibald Carlyle and his sharp tongued sister Cornelia, played by Pat Brenner. What became of the poor orphan? She has only one living relative, Raymond Vane, played by Tony Wanamaker, who generously offers Isabel a home, but then there is his wife, Carol Edwards, who is consumed with jealousy towards Lady Isabel.

Others in the cast were: Brent Joslin as John Dill, Marcella Hutchins as Clare Bethel, Judy Fuller as Joyce and Lynda Burr as Barbara Hall.

George, the hero, threatened Louis, the villian Lynda and Claire sat very still on the sofa.

The Senior Class, with considerable help from the drama department, produced the season's second smash hit play, "Arsenic and Old Lace". This hilarious comedy, which played for years on Broadway, was effectively done by the drama students, many of whom played more than one part.

Stage settings were more elaborate and costumes more authentic than in years past, when the accent had been on simplicity. The costuming, make-up, and scenery lent an air of professionalism to the performance that set off the actor's portrayals.

Between nephew Teddy charging up the stairs under the impression it was San Juan Hill, and he Mr. Roosevelt, and everyone else hiding bodies in the window seat and trying vainly to bury them in the cellar, the audience laughed itself sick as things turned from funny to sidesplitting.

The members of the cast worked hard to make the play a success.

We, the students of L.H.S., started our safari this year on September 10, 1956. Each of you has helped make this a successful journey. During the safari we have had many successful events which have made the going easier and more fun. Those, of course, were in addition to your work and studies.

We have gained lots of experience and learned how to chart our course on a safari as we will on your journey through life. Some of us will stay here and make other trips.

I hope that you feel as I do that this experience will be a benefit to you always.

Special thanks go to our wonderful guides, the teachers and to our principal, Mr. Kingsley, who have made this a most successful safari.

I hope that each and every one of you has a successful safari in life. This is where I leave our safari and bid you good-bye and good luck.

Greetings, members of the Safari of 1956-57. Our nine months journey this year has been an exciting one as well as a worthwhile one for all of us.

The record of this caravan—our account of our work, fun, and learning—is in this annual. We hope you will enjoy looking through its pages to recall the highlights of this particular expedition.

No safari of this size and importance can be planned and executed without the help of many people, all of whom deserve our gratitude.

First on our list is our adviser, Mr. Durbin, who has rendered a lot of help in putting this book together. Also we wish to thank Mr. Kingsley for the assistance he has offered us during this safari.

Members of this year's Art Staff were, Seated: J. Johnson and B. Brentlinger. Standing: L. Wilson, D. Bradburn, J. Jarboe, Don Longacre, and N. Barker.

The typists were, Seated: B. Cairns and B. Helton. The two photographers were, Standing: J. Farless and C. Sheldon.

To our staff we wish to say thanks for all your help. The art staff has worked long and hard on the division pages and end sheets. Identifying pictures and writing the articles were done by our capable literary staff. Our two very excellent typists did a swell job on typing up the articles, and our business staff sold the COMET to you.

We wish to thank our two photographers and Mr. Hood for their time spent in taking and developing the pictures.

The COMET staff has worked all year to record a true account of this expedition. We hope you like it.

The Echoing L continued to report the Safari's journey week by exciting week in the school year, "56-57." From sports to fashions, there was always something in each edition to please every student.

The staff continued its editorial campaign for a new and better gym, but also attacked student thieving, the lack of assemblies, and hosts of other topics.

Under the direction of Editor Pat Brenner, and the advisership of Mr. Gossman, the paper was packed with timely news and interesting features.

To stimulate interest, a student poll was taken to determine feelings about the changing of the paper's name. Although the move was unsuccessful, it promoted a flurry of letters to the editor and achieved its primary goal of student interest in the publications.

The Echoing L proved again and again that it is still the student's paper, and the student's record. Nothing of importance was ever omitted, nothing unsuitable was ever printed, but, thanks to a capable and industrious staff, the paper remains a lively work of good journalism.

Over the caravan route this year Mr. Smith, our naturalist, has taught the FFA boys many things that they will use when they have completed this safari.

At the beginning of the year all of the Freshmen got the "Green Hand" treatment. This initiation took place after a barbecue dinner. The Freshmen had their hands dipped into green paint, and all the upper classmen had fun.

This year in order to raise money the boys sold raffle tickets on turkeys for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Two different judging teams went to Cal Poly for the judging contests. On each team there were three members; one team consisted of upper classmen and the other one of lower classmen.

The FFA Banquet was held on February 22. This was one of the high lights of the year.

In May two delegates were sent to the State FFA Convention at Cal Poly to learn "what is new in farming."

To end this year's expedition successfully, Mr. Smith and the FFA boys have planned a four or five day fishing trip. They will leave on June 9, two days after school is out.

The chorus sang loud and strong for many occasions.

Under the direction of Richard K. Motter, the Lindsay High School Chorus provides the lively war chants and plaintive love songs of distant shores to the traveling LHS students.

These versatile native singers charm the public once a year when they join forces with the LHS band in the annual Band and Chorus Show, held each spring. This musical is the tuneful high-light of the year for the chorus, and many careful months of preparation go into the final product.

Special talents are encouraged in the Chorus class also, and aid is given to duos, quartets, and specialties by Mr. Motter.

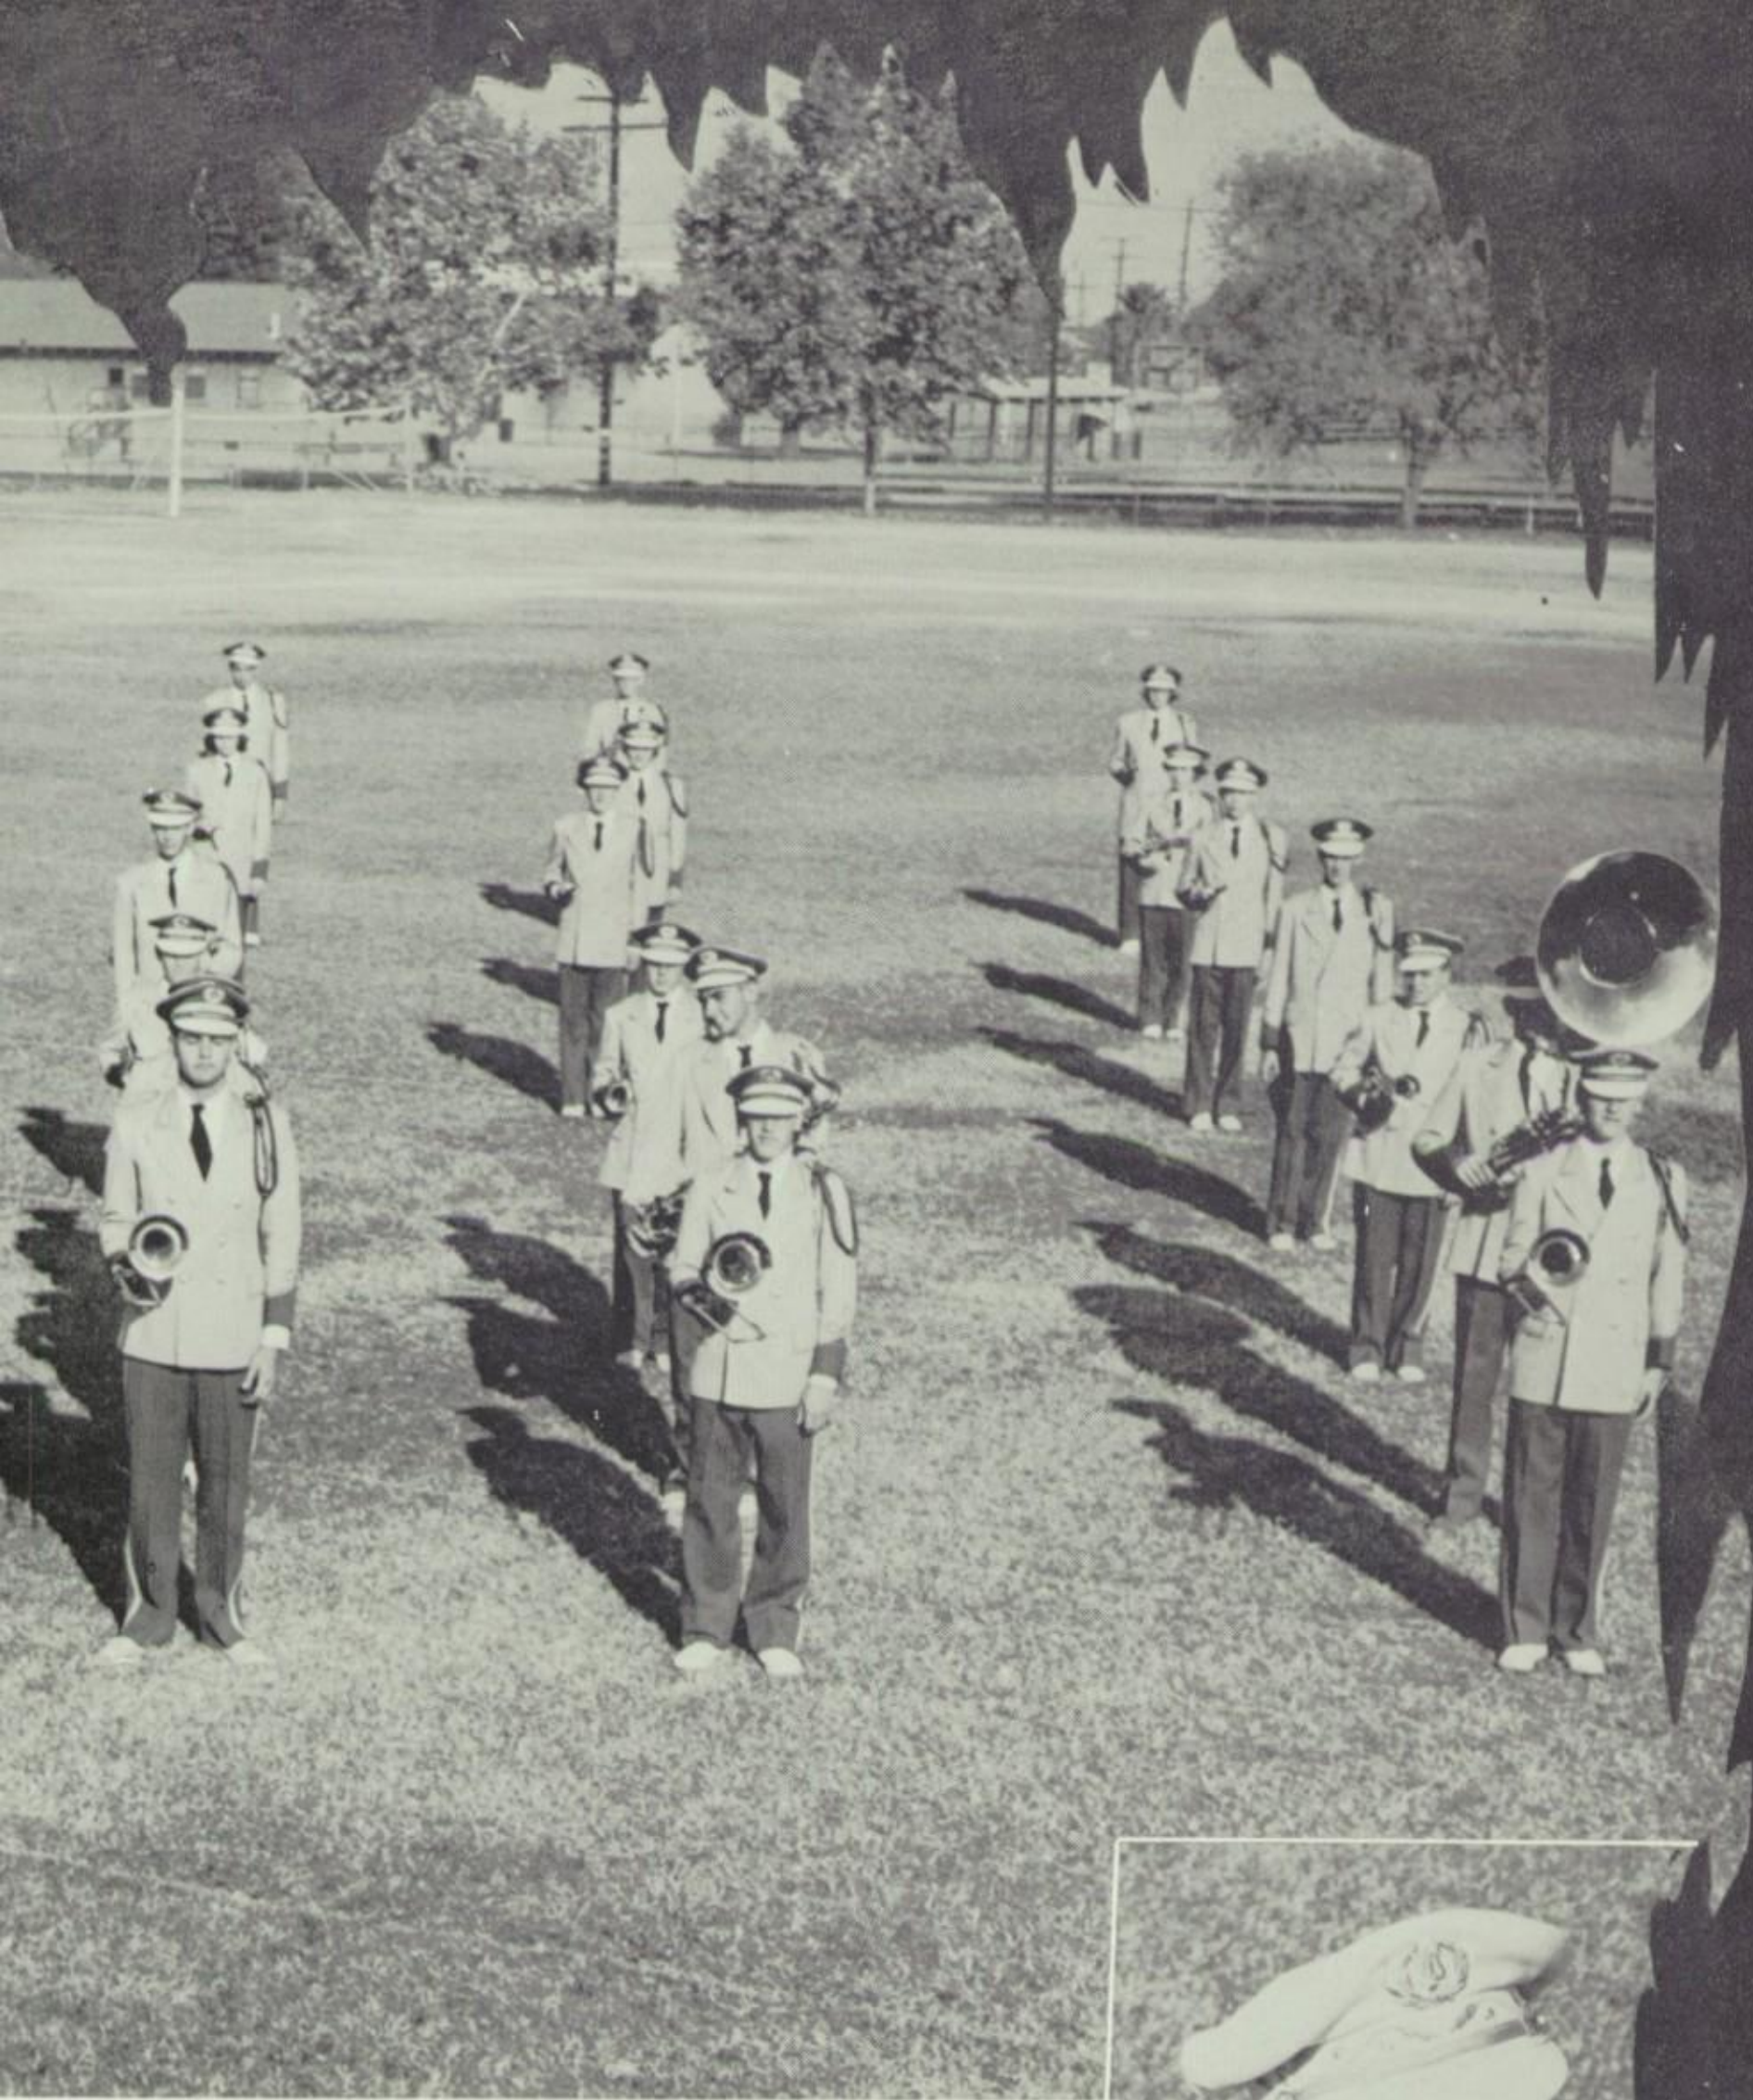

From the first scale work in the warm up exercise to the most difficult Bach chorale, the emphasis is on perfection and fun and whoever said "Never the twain shall meet" just didn't know his beans about the Lindsay High School Chorus.

This year the Spanish Safari was formed by three groups under the Head Guide, Mrs. Ketelsen. The first division was in two groups under the assistant guides, Sunny Flores and Nancy Barker. They were the younger members on the foreign trip.

Second division had the more adventurous explorers, following their assistant guide Sharon Butterbaugh. They were quite an active group.

The most daring persons in the whole party were the eleven third year students who, under the capable leadership of Bonny Cairns, had a very interesting journey.

Conferences were held along the journey the last Friday of each month, at which entertainment was provided for the weary travelers. On May fifth the whole safari group gathered for a Banquet, at which all spoke the foreign language.

This safari had a very successful year!

Life on a Safari can be humdrum. It is the work of the Y-Teens to provide for fun and entertainment to offset the monotony of an expedition.

Bi-monthly meetings of the organization have been entertaining and educational. Service projects for this year were polishing trophies for Lindsay High, making tray favors for Hospital patients, and helping with the heart drive.

Some of the highlights of this trip were the annual backward banquet honoring football players, with Carol Ann Kimbrough, football Queen, reigning over this festive occasion.

Another traditional event which always is a huge success is the Y-Teen Carnival.

Under the leadership of Nancy Brown and Mrs. Ketelsen, adviser, the Y-Teens were proud of their expedition of 1956-57.

Traveling along the jungle path, we find girls, girls, and more girls! A tribe of amazons? No, its another Girls' League meeting full of interesting ideas, worthwhile service projects, and heart warming companionship for all.

Whether it be singing Christmas carols along wintry streets, listening to advice from a boys' panel on the "girl" subject, or auctioning off classmates to raise money, the Girls' League stands out more as an organization for all the girls than it ever has in years past.

At the beginning of the year many "Leaguers" attended the Convention in Bakersfield and returned home with more than enough ideas for the ensuing year. The club changed its service project this year, thereby leaving more funds for girls' activities.

The Sweetheart Ball was the biggest social event of the year, and one dance that the whole school will long remember.

President Carol Castle and her able cabinet deserve our praise for a year's job well done.

Traveling with the Safari is the Boys' Federation. Heading this caravan is the Boys' Federation Chief, Harold Waddell. Other warriors who led this expedition are Bill Baird, Rick Ferrier, Tony Wanamaker, and Bill Price.

As we have been traveling along through the jungles of life, these boys have not been idle—the board of trustees gives the boys a sum of money which is used for repairing vandalism, such as breaking windows, and writing on walls.

With the money that is saved, the boys plan to put radios in the school buses. These contributions will help to make our safari much nicer in the years to come.

Members of the Girl's Athletic Association have had a very successful and happy year. The hilarious volleyball games with the men teachers proved the big attraction. The teachers won, but they had a hard time doing it.

The Christmas party was very successful and a lot of fun.

This could not have been a success without our advisor, Mrs. Luna; president, Joan Snow; vice-president, Margaret Parks; secretary, Helen Wheeler; treasurer, Mary Ascencio; point recorder, Joy Natoli; Girl's League representative, Joan Snow; and Sports Manager, Joyce Snow.

Playdays were held at Porterville, Mt. Whitney, and Woodlake. A good time was had by all.

We pause shortly by the warriors hut where a meeting of the Block L is now in session. The head man or President of this manly organization this year is Bob Rueda. His assistant is Vice-President, Rick Ferrier, who is planning big business to come. The man with the pen is Arthur Morillo, who is the Secretary and Treasurer of the brawny band. The tough looking guy at the door is Carl Kaku, who is Sergeant of Arms.

This year the Block L is made up of boys who have lettered in A class once, B class twice, or C class three times.

The Block L has sponsored a Block L basketball game with the faculty and a movie on the Chicago Bears to raise money for their memorial fund and other needy organizations. The Block L was managed this year by a true warrior, J. R. Boone.

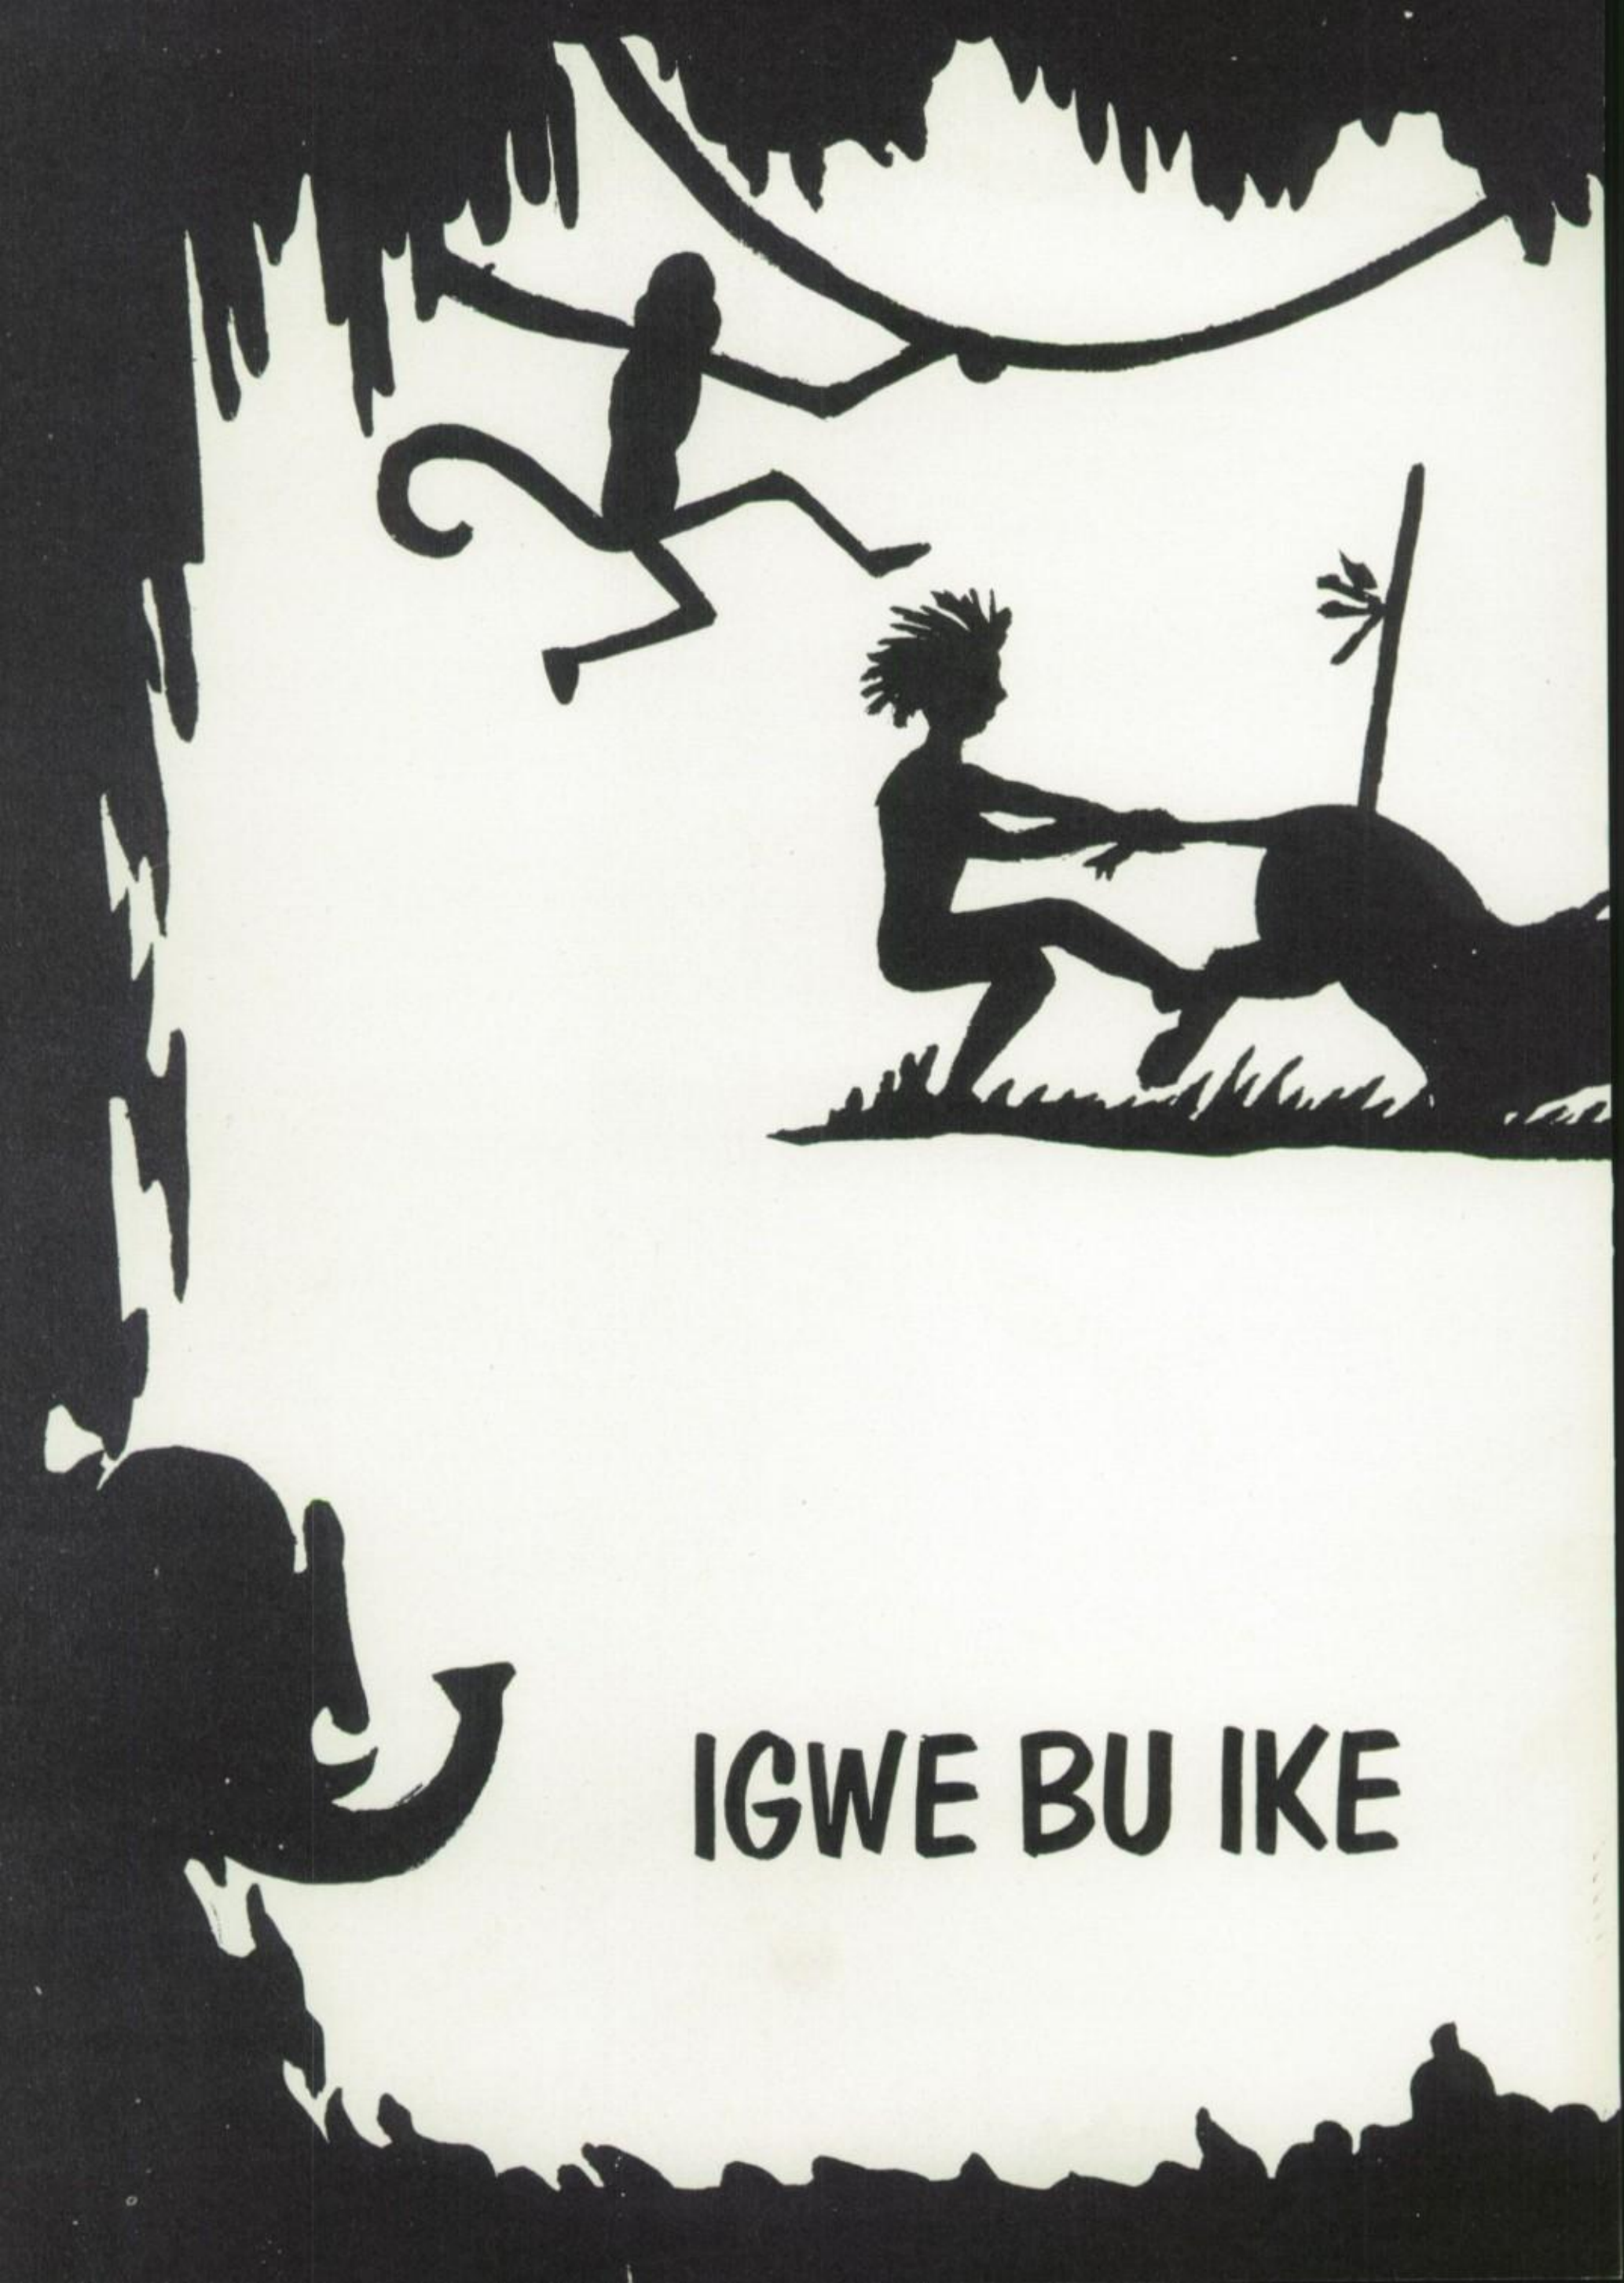

Though only a pause in our safari the Block L is a very needed and influential part of our school. It provides fellowship and supports good sportsmanship throughout our entire campus. This good work will always have place in this institution no matter how big or small.

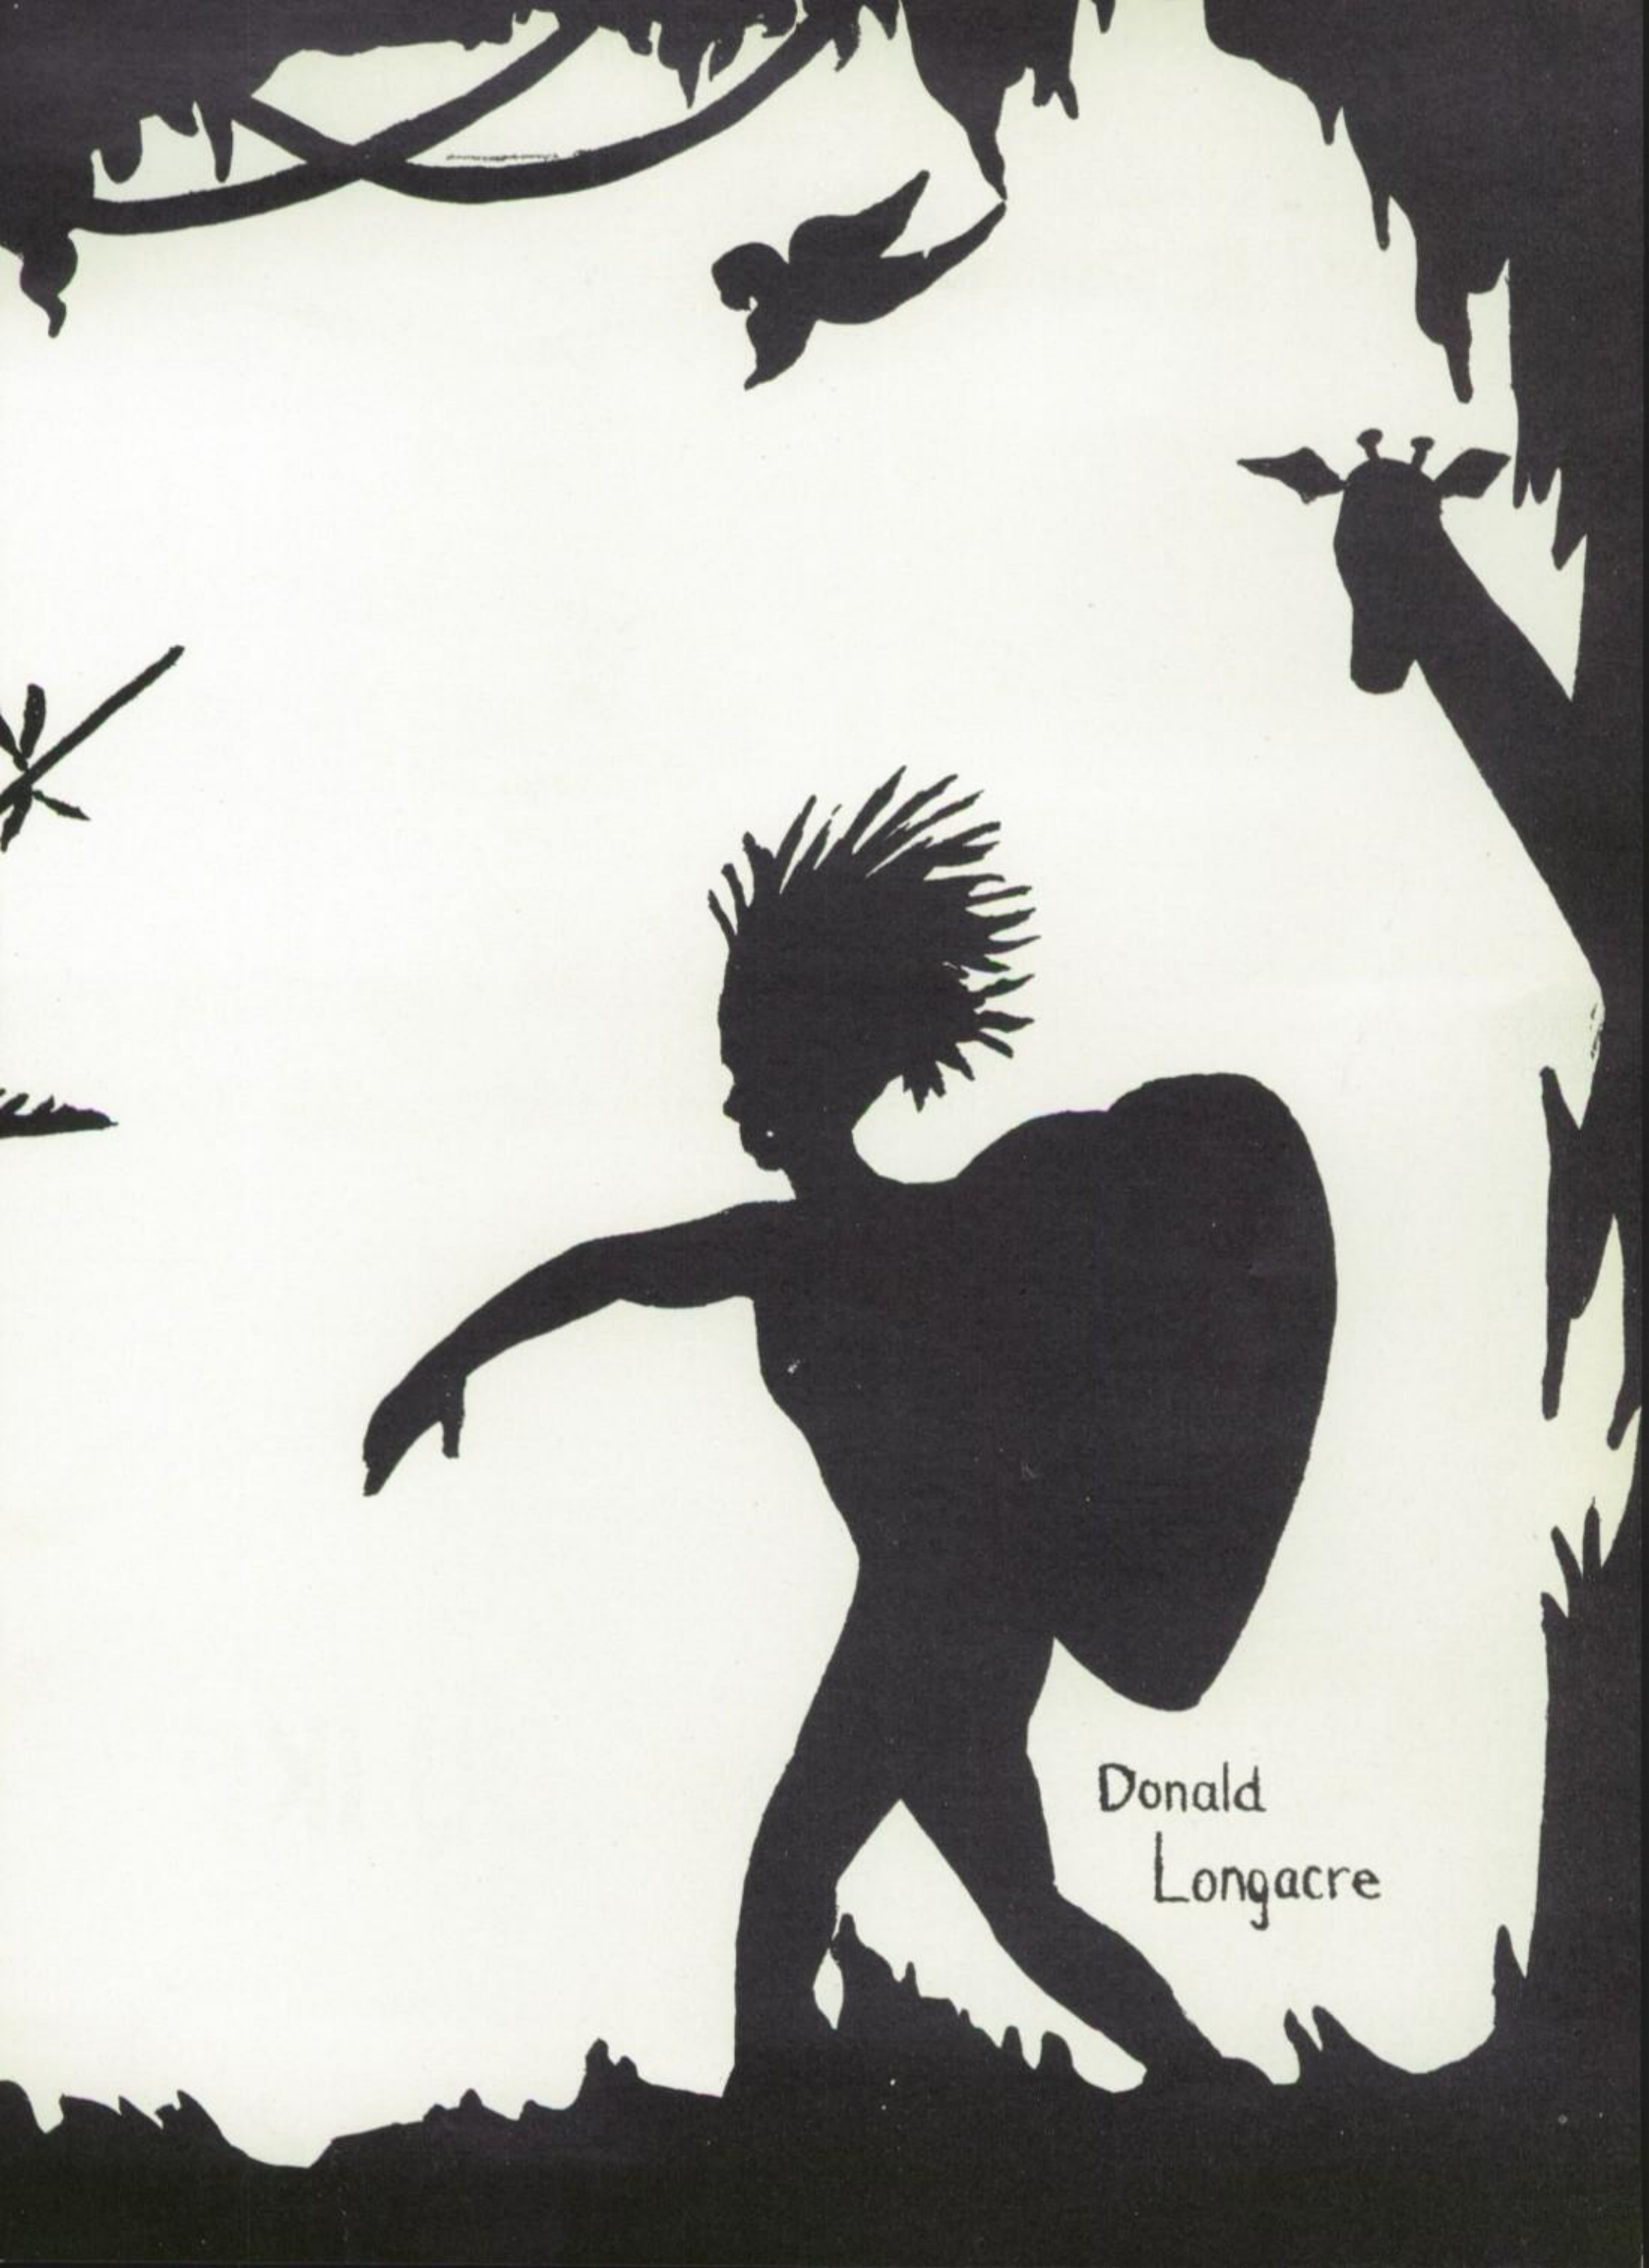

The players of the year were: M. Arms, Lightweight; B. Rueda and D. Fitzgerald, Heavyweight.

The officers were: A. Morillo, Secretary-Treasurer; L. Rose, Vice-President; C. Kaku, Sergeant of Arms; and B. Rueda, President.

Although their all over record was only six wins and four losses we took championship with a four wins; one loss record. Our only loss? To Strathmore—20—19.

We were led by Captain Bill Baird and Bob Reuda and Dwight Fitzgerald, who tied for most valuable player. Bob and Dwight also tied for the Booster's award for the most valuable player.

Our team placed eight men on the all league team. They were Dwight Fitzgerald, Bill Baird, Bill Price, Harold Waddell, Walter Moore, Bob Rueda, Bill Beech, and Carl Kaku. Of these, Dwight Fitzgerald and Carl Kaku are the only Juniors.

Rugby

Along our journey this year, time was taken out for recreational purposes. One such thing was the Cardette football team, coached by Mr. Maichrowicz and Mr. Bridges. Everyone enjoyed the games.

In league play, the Cardettes won three games and lost two. This gave them third place in the league. The big thing that they did was beating their arch rivals, Strathmore and Exeter.

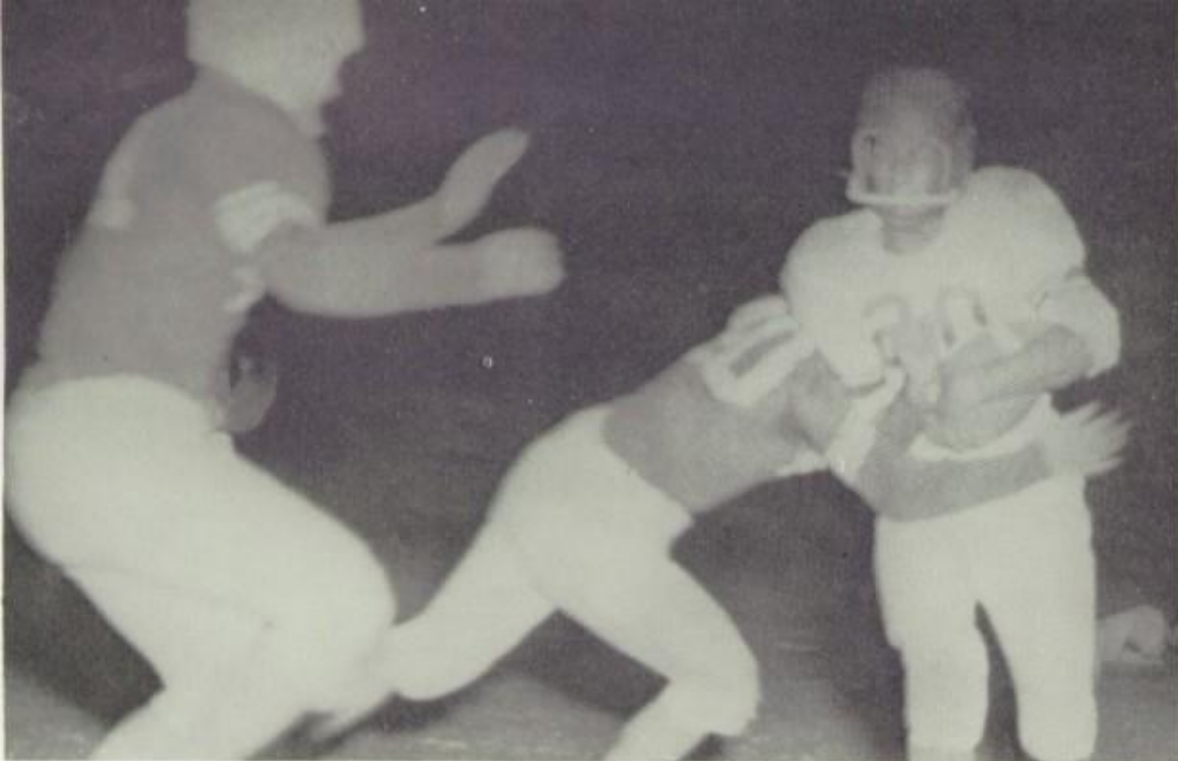

The Cardettes were led by Larry Pickering, their captain, who intercepted a pass in the last 15 seconds and ran for the winning touchdown against Avenal. Also, big men in their lineup were Manual Armas, voted the most valuable player, Bob Baird, their quarterback, and Larry Stachler, who won the Booster Club's award and played a fine game against Tehachapi for the heavyweights.

The team, as a whole, played a real good game and had a fair season.

Our 1956—57 basketball team was fast and spirited, and we came up with a third place in the league.

The first team, Bob, Larry, Ron, Gary, Tootie, and Larry were coached by Mr. Boone.

This season the Cardettes, as in previous years, showed the great talent and spirit which earmarked them as an important title contender in the Southern Sierra B Class Basketball League.

As the last game of the season approached the Cardettes had a chance to tie for first place and hurtle the Southern Sierra League into a three way tie, only to have this chance shattered by one meager point at the claws of the Woodlake Cubs.

The Cardettes bagged seven wins and lost only three in league play to tie for second. This successful season was brought about through Coach Boone's fine teaching of basketball and the fine playing of Captain Bob Baird and All League nominee, Gary Bohnisch, to name only a couple of this year's team.

Coming along on the Safari was the C class basketball team. Coaching it was Mr. Bridges.

The team had their troubles, because of inexperience, but they tried real hard. Many of the scores were close. One game they won was against Woodlake. They also beat Alpaugh, with a score of 19 to 16.

Robert Salcedo, captain, led the team on the courts.

Although they didn't win many games, they gained much experience and improved along our journey.

This year's track team had a good season. There were many returning lettermen. The track team was under the able guidance of Coach Vernon Bridges. Included in track are such events as shot put, discus, pole vault, high and low hurdles, high jump, broad jump, and other such track events. Besides trying to win, Mr. Bridges tries to make better sportsmen out of the track men.

Bradley Holmes threw the shot put.

The year's safari comes upon a watering place, only to find it filled with exuberant natives swimming, diving, and racing with members of other tribes. Showing their natural aptitude for the water are the three L.H.S. teams, divided into distinct classes, the A's, the B's, and the Girls.

Under the coaching of "Mike" Maichrowicz, the mermen and mermaids brought their school no small measure of honor in the divisional and valley meets. Weeks and months of training and careful personal attention to each swimmer's special problems paid off this year, and in a big way.

The increased distance proved no handicap, and Lindsay swim teams swam off with their share of honors in the 1957 season.

They're off! On the left is the team—John, Don, Charles, and Paul. On the right is the other team—Carl, Dave, Rick, and Bob.

About half of our journey was over when Coach Skadan, Coach Boone, and the baseball teams brought to us many wonderful games.

Jerry Lowe did a swell job of pitching the varsity team to many victories. There were many returning lettermen including seven of last year's starting team. Seven men were promoted to the varsity team from the Jr. Varsity. With this how could they help but have a good team.

The Jr. Varsity did a swell job, too. Ron Atteberry pitched to some real rough teams. Under the direction of Mr. Boone, the team did a swell job.

The teams as a whole let us see some real exciting games and made this safari a success.

The bus drivers were Mr. Thompson, Mr. Matzek, Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Ross, Mr. Williams, Mr. Green.
